*percentages may not add to 100% because of rounding.

I can conclude that the integrity and functionality of the electronic voting system, including all security measures, have remained intact throughout the voting period. I can also conclude that access to the system has been limited to voters identified as eligible voters and that they have only been allowed to vote in the race to which they were approved to vote in. As the Electoral Office, we have conducted audits of the voting system before, during and at the close of the voting period, including reconciliation of any changes in the voting list during the voting period. I can declare the above results to be an accurate representation of those votes cast.
